The Top 5 Entities to which client orders were routed 2022

LYNX exclusively receives and transmits client orders for execution to Interactive Brokers Ireland Limited (hereinafter: Interactive Brokers), established in Ireland. This implies that Interactive Brokers serves as single execution venue. LYNX has entered into a contractual agreement with Interactive Brokers to transmit the orders which it receives from its clients to Interactive Brokers because the latter allows LYNX to meet the requirements of best execution in an appropriate and adequate manner. LYNX refers to its order execution policy¹ which states that all orders of clients will be transmitted to Interactive Brokers for execution.

Interactive Brokers adheres to its own order execution policy and strives for best execution and thus acting in the best interest(s) of clients. Interactive Brokers makes use of smart order routing. This means that Interactive Brokers determines the order routing and where the order is executed. The order can be executed within the Interactive Brokers group or sent to a party outside the group which is connected to a stock exchange. If you would like to see an overview of where Interactive Brokers executes orders for her clients, we refer you to their website. This overview shows the top five entities that LYNX uses to transmit orders to, which are then executed by Interactive Brokers. LYNX refers to the website of Interactive Brokers for more information regarding the top five of the execution venues Interactive Brokers uses. Their overview will enable clients and the public to evaluate the quality of Interactive Brokers' execution quality and to identify the top five execution venues in terms of trading volumes where Interactive Brokers' executed client orders in the preceding year, Interactive Brokers publishes information in relation to trading venues, market makers or other liquidity providers or any entity that performs a similar function outside the European Economic Area (EEA).
